Hi John:
I feel that we have a good argument that the entire business is marital property under an implied partnership theory. I attached a case which I think is helpful. You can drop off the retainer and agreement with the receptionist but I need you to sign an oath page to attach to the complaint for divorce when you come in. I've also attached the questionnaire. Please complete the questionnaire and leave it with the receptionist. When do you plan on coming by? I want to make sure we have a notary here for the oath. Thanks.

Sarah,

Before signing the retainer agreement, I'd like to confirm we have a case. Please review the attached documents and let me know your thoughts.

You had mentioned also that you'd check case law/history to see if a business started by one spouse was considered marital property or if the spouse who did not start the business was only entitled to appreciation. Did you find anything in this regard?

Thanks,

-John
